

4-H Club Program Club Pngram Planning Guide

PURPOSE

Planning is an important life skill acquired in the 4-H Youth Development Program (YDP). 4-H club planning is a great way to practice this skill. This 4-H Club Program Planning Guide has been designed to assist clubs in completing University of California (UC) 4-H YDP expectations, including requirements to be a Club in Good Standing, maintain the 4-H Club Charter and use the 4-H Name and Emblem.

The plan provides the club a checklist to meet UC/4-H policies and expectations as well as to aid in the development of high-quality educational programming. The information can also be used as an annual club evaluation tool. Each club has an opportunity to develop its own annual program plan that meets the needs of its members. The plan should include an educational program that provides a variety of learning experiences. Each 4-H club is encouraged to establish a planning committee of 4-H members and club officers to work with the 4-H club officer advisor or community club leader to develop the club's program for the coming year.

Each 4-H club needs to be intentional in their efforts to provide an optimum environment for positive youth development. These efforts include active participation by each member in the process that is purposeful and developmental.

Instructions for Using this Guide

The guide begins with essentials for maintaining a charter. It is followed by suggestions to help clubs establish goals. The club officers should review the planning guide regularly with the membership to check on the club's progress.

For a club to earn the minimum status of Club in Good Standing with a green charter seal, it must meet the fourteen (14) minimum requirements in Section 1 by the end of the year. One point will be awarded for each goal completed in this guide. A 4-H club may also earn a higher level charter seal by completing additional goals in Sections 2, 3 and/or 4, for a total of nineteen (19) for Blue and twenty-four (24) for Gold.

Goals should be set at the beginning of the year. Place a check mark by those goals that you plan to work on this year. As you complete your goal, place a check mark in the completed section. You may add one goal of your own in Sections 2, 3, and/or 4. Please use the blank line at the end of each section to designate your goal.

A 4-H club is best positioned to serve youth and the community when it is structured with sufficient numbers of volunteers to meet the club's needs, has active club officers and committees and meets an adequate number of times during the year. Club meetings or a special event should be planned and involve all members and their families. A club needs to create an environment that ensures the physical and emotional health and safety of each member.

Meeting due dates is an important responsibility. By meeting due dates 4-H clubs will be more efficient and better serve the membership by insuring enrollment, communications, compliance and recognition.

4-H clubs must have a 4-H charter. The 4-H Charter formally recognizes a group's affiliation with 4-H and grants the group permission to use the 4-H Name and Emblem. It provides the permission for the 4-H Club to be a subsidiary of USDA National 4-H Headquarters, University of California and eligibility for federal tax exemption status. All 4-H clubs, units, groups and committees that use the 4-H Name and Emblem, handle finances and/or have a checkbook must be chartered. This includes accepting donations and fundraising.

All chartered 4-H clubs and units are required to complete all items in Section 1 of this 4-H Club Program Planning Guide. Noncompliance can result in removal of the 4-H Club Charter, dissolution of the club and withdrawal of permission to use the 4-H Name and Emblem.
