Plan to join us for this integrated orchard management short course featuring UC faculty, Cooperative Extension specialists and farm advisors, and USDA researchers who will provide an in-depth, comprehensive class on all phases of almond culture and production.

The program is based on the latest information and research and will cover the fundamental principles that form the basis for practical decisions and include Q&A for each session, quality time with instructors and networking opportunities.

An optional Field Tour in Parlier, CA will follow the short course.

Who should attend: New and experienced growers as well as other industry members interested in commercial almond production.
